Held at St. Thomas'

St. Thomas' Church was the scene today at noon of a brilliant military wedding when Miss Isabel Harrison Glennon, daughter of Commander J. H. Glennon, U. S. N., and Mrs. Glennon, became the wife of Lieut. Mathew Arthur Cross, U. S. A.

The church was tastefully decorated with palms and Easter lilies, and the ceremony was performed by the rector of the church, the Rev. C. Ernest Smith. Commander Glennon, wearing the full dress uniform of his rank, escorted his daughter into the church and gave her in marriage. The bride's gown was a beautiful costume of heavy white satin, made after the princess fashion, with a long train. The bodice was effectively trimmed with princess lace. Her long tulle veil which was fastened to the hair with orange blossoms, completely enveloped her figure. The bridal bouquet was a shower of lilies of the valley. With this costume the bride's only ornaments were a quaint old gold bracelet, that has been in the family for many years, and a handsome pearl pin, the gift of her godmother, Mrs. Danenhower, of Oswego, N. Y.

The bridal party were preceded by the aisle to the chancel by the ushers, all classmates of the bridegroom at West Point, in their full dress uniforms. They were Lieutenant Blakely and Lieutenant McDonald, stationed at Fort Meyer; Lieutenant Pettus, Lieutenant Ward and Lieutenant Robert, now of Washington Barracks, and Lieutenant Fenton, stationed at West Point.

Following the ushers were the bridesmaids, who wore dainty costumes of white organdie over pink silk, made with tulle of pink ribbon and lace over the shoulders, crossing in front in surprise effect. An empire effect was given by the wide pink sashes being brought up high in the back. With these effective costumes white Leghorn hats, trimmed with light and dark pink wistaria blossoms, were worn. The bridesmaids were Miss Grace Allen, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Charles J. Allen; Miss Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray; Miss Virginia Dorrance, and Miss Louise Scribner.

Miss Katherine Clabaugh, the debutante daughter of Chief Justice of the District Supreme Court, and Mrs. H. M. Clabaugh, was maid of honor and immediately preceded the bride. Her gown was of white organdie over pale silk, made princess, and elaborately trimmed with lace. She wore a large white Leghorn hat trimmed with pale pink ostrich plumes and carried an immense bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony the bridal party at the altar with his best man, Lieutenant Berry, another classmate of his, now stationed at Fort Meyer.

After the ceremony there was a small wedding breakfast in the home of the bride's parents on N street for a bride's party, relatives, and a few intimate friends. Y., godmother of the bride, and her mother, Mrs. Sloan, and Mr. Cross, of Kansas, brother of the bridegroom. Lieutenant and Mrs. Cross left Washington later in the afternoon for their wedding trip. The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Pechin, as matron of honor, and Miss Marie Harban, as maid of honor. NATICA RIVES MARRIES BURDEN AT NOON TODAY

Family Opposition Talk
Set at Rest by Event.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Very quietly, with only the members of the two families and a few intimate friends present, Miss Natica Rives, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Rives, and William Proudt Burden were married in the chancel of Grace Church, at noon today.

For days rumors of family opposition and other troubles of the young couple had made their marriage a very uncertain affair. Miss Rives drops from the Hotel Netherlands to the church, with her father. There were no bridesmaids and the groom was attended only by his brother, Arthur Scott Burden, who had married the best friend of Miss Rives. The Rev. William S. Huntington, rector of Grace Church, performed the ceremony. When rumors of the engagement of Miss Rives and Mr. Burden first got about nearly a year ago, there was apparently nothing to cloud the sky of their happiness. Then in the fall, Miss Rives broke down from too much society. By the advice of a physician she hurried down to Lakewood for the rest treatment. Her health did not improve. She came back to New York, and she was still in attendance and they were apparently very happy.

She remained at the Netherlands, where she took up her residence to secure quiet, until today.

Mr. and Mrs. William Burden will travel for a short time and then take up their residence in New York.

That's Now and Here

In Sunday's Times you were told of Books at the lowest prices of years. In The Star various Dress Needs were advertised. Today we give The Star readers the book news and The Times' readers the dress needs news, as told by the chiefs of the various departments:

One of the pieces of heavy black Escorial Laces, 18 inches wide, used for waists and jackets. See Lace Chief's talk.....

The Silk Chief.

"Really desirable silks are scarce and dearer. I feel quite proud in being able to announce reliable black Taffeta Silks at less than current quotations."

- 36 inches, $1.75 quality...$1.35
- 36 inches, $1.50 quality...$1.25
- 36 inches, $1.25 quality... 98c
- 24 inches, 89c quality... 75c
- 24 inches, 85c quality.... 69c
- 20 inches, 68c quality.... 49c

"Not less a triumph is the offering of the wanted Summer Silks. In shadow checks, plaids, and the various stripes, at fifty-nine (59) cents, instead of 75c yard."

And rarely good news is that golden brown and all the leather shades are now included among the Sath Poulards, at 69c, instead of 89c yard."

The Cotton Chief.

"With the present condition of the cotton market, the five lots to be advertised are little less than phenomenal."

- 15c quality Organdies....10c
- 19c quality Lawns.....12c
- 25c quality Swisses.....15c
- 25c quality Organdies....19c

"It should be observed that the Gingham at 74c are in best colors, guaranteed indelible. The Organdies at 10c are sheer enough to be 19c a yard. The Lawns at 12c, the Dotted Swiss at 15c, and the genuine French Organdies at 19c are aristocratic bargains, all."

The Lace Chief.

"I never bought better bargains. The only adverse criticism possible is that all widths are not here in each width. The prices will make ample amends."

- Laces worth up to $3.00...75c
- Laces worth up to $1.50...55c
- Laces worth up to $1.00...39c
